Your Agile Development Partner

Pick your scenario when YOU are a start-up and...

you have an idea which can turn into a multimillion dollar venture. You are not necessarily an IT expert and you don't want to become one.

1. We deal with it for you. Tell us more about the idea and we quickly create a reliable prototype of the application allowing you to focus on how to develop the business. Naturally your regular feedback will be important.

2. You already have a prototype and want it to become the dream product.

No problem, we take over and cover the full application development cycle for you:

Prototype, Product, Testing and finally we hand it over to you or even run it for you. Turnkey delivery.

3. You have a team and need to expand it. You are dealing with a bigger project and you need the core team on that. We expand your team with our people and a team leader.

We will ensure our people fit well within your company culture

We will advise you on the right skillset to fit the required project target.
